SAYS HE KNOCKS.

Fish Warden Dyche Thinks Travis Has Calmed Down.

But Claims He Heads List of a Few Dissatisfied.

THAT WICHITA SESSION

Tells of the Controversy in Hotel Lobby.

Dyche Has Spent $80,000 in Improvements at Hatchery.

Lawrence, Kan., June 2.—There's a lot of such knockers and sore heads running loose as Del Travis, but at the present time he is the head of the lot that is rattling me and my work," said Professor L. L. Dyche to a reporter this morning. "It's no easy matter to be the game warden in Kansas in the present lack of funds to carry on the work, let alone having to stand up under the fire of personal abuse that has been coming my way ever since I took the place."

"How about Del Travis? Oh, he's quiet now considering his nature. He has never made any reply to my letter which was made public a short time ago and which called him bluff. "I saw Travis the day my letter came out in the papers. He was with Wagstaff and that crowd at a hotel in Wichita. I happened to go in the lobby just as he was reading the letter, and you can bet that we had it out then and there. He did not seem to be inclined to do anything, though, and would not even settle the row when some of his friends offered to go in half on renting a hall. I offered to pay the other half, but Travis backed out. Since then, he has had much to say except to knock at my back."

"The whole thing looks as if he were sore because he lost his hold on the hatchery for personal gain. He says that I'm in it for all I can get, but I'll tell you right here that the only personal interest I have in the hatcheries and wardenship is a personal desire to see Kansas get all it can out of the hatcheries and make the money go as far as possible."

Del Travis' attack on Prof. Dyche's administration was made at a meeting of the Sportsmen's club held at Hutchinson a few weeks ago. Dyche replied in a long statement, answering satisfactorily all of the charges. "Prof. Dyche has been in Lawrence on a two days' stay to tend to some of his duties as professor at the university. He will leave for Pratt today, and plunge again into his many duties as state game warden."

"Our correspondence down there is something awful and we can't possibly keep up with it with the same force in the office. The job down there takes every minute of my time. I'm tied up on account of having little or no money to run the business with. I expect to get the fifty thousand tied up in the state treasury by the next meeting of the legislature, not to count the hunting licenses for this year. I have $30,000 ready spent in improvements. The only thing I lack is the money, and will get rid of that as soon as I can get it."

CAPTAIN BRANDLEY DEAD.

Came to Kansas in Early Days and Located in Chase County.

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., June 2.—Captain Henry Brandley died at his home at Matfield Green, twenty miles south of this city, yesterday. Captain Brandley was a native of Switzerland but came to the United States with his parents in 1852, and to Chase county, Kansas, in 1859, where he has since resided.

He has always been a staunch Republican and has taken a prominent part in public affairs. At the time of the war he was in the 10th Kansas Cavalry, Company B. Ninth cavalry, Kansas volunteers, in September, 1863, was promoted through the various grades to rank of captain, and was mustered out at Fort Leavenworth in 1865. Captain Brandley has been prominent in state affairs, having represented this district in the state legislature of 1870, was journal clerk of the house sessions of 1870 and 1872, senator from this district in 1874-75, journal clerk of the senate in 1875, and secretary of the senate sessions of 1877-78-79-80.

Captain Brandley was an early settler here and was known by perhaps every man, woman and child in Chase county, when every settler was a neighbor to every other settler within a radius of 50 miles, and when friendships were formed that lasted a lifetime.

Mr. Brandley had been in poor health for some time and his death was not unexpected. He leaves a widow and eight children—two sons and six daughters to mourn his loss. Ex-Representative E. G. Crocker is his son-in-law.

HAS 170 ACRES FINE WHEAT.

J. W. Crouse Thinks He Will Have a Big Yield.

Goodland, Kan., June 2.—J. W. Crouse, who lives about two miles east of Kanorado, was in town and talked as to the crop outlook in his part of the county.

"I have 170 acres of winter wheat that is the finest I have ever had at this time of the year," said Mr. Crouse. "My wheat stands thick on the ground, and it is about ready to joint. Unless the unforeseen happens, I shall have the largest yield and the finest quality that it has ever been my fortune to raise in Sherman county."

WM. LULL UPHOLD HIS TITLE.

Brought Home 75 Pounds of Fish Caught in Kawich River.

Lebanon, Kan., June 2.—William Lull and wife have returned from a few days' fishing trip at DeWitt, Mo., along the Kawich River. William took great pride in upholding his title as a fisherman by displaying a fifteen pound catfish, which he had fished to his temptingly baited hook, along with the 75 pounds of fish which they caught.

ENGINE WEIGHS FIVE POUNDS.

Russell Man Built Miniature One That Runs Nicely.

Russell, Kan., June 2.—Ben Wood, Jr., has just finished building a gasoline engine which is about as small as engines can be made. It is complete and runs nicely and has an aggregate weight of five pounds and two ounces. Its piston stroke is only three-quarters of an inch. It is complete and particular job to get gasoline into it in small enough quantities and properly mixed to run it. Much better results are obtained by feeding it gas from an acetylene tank. The engine is complete with every working part. Some of the parts are so small that it took pretty delicate work to turn them to the exact size and degree of trueness necessary for accurate fitting.

NEWS FROM JEWELL CITY.

Rev. Wakem Delivers Memorial Sermon to Large Audience.

Jewell City, Kan., June 2.—The Baptist preacher, Rev. J. B. Wakem, is the new preacher in town and one who is commanding attention. His morning at 11 o'clock he delivered an impressive memorial sermon before a large audience, all other services in town being dismissed for the occasion. Mr. Wakem concluded his sermon by reciting the celebrated poem, "The Burial of Moses," as a special tribute to the unknown dead. The Rev. Dr. Silber, who was present, says it is one of the finest, if not the finest, memorial sermon he has ever heard. The G. A. R. post and W. R. C., who invited Rev. Wakem to deliver the memorial sermon, attended in a body, occupying reserved seats in the E. V. choir furnished the music.

The Rev. Dr. B. T. Stauber of Lincoln, Kan., who has just closed a six week service as superintendent of the Salina district, and was formerly pastor of the M. E. church at this place for five consecutive years, has been visiting old friends here. Mr. Stauber was the first lieutenant of Company E, Twentieth Pennsylvania cavalry and is a popular orator with the public on patriotic occasions. He was the orator on Decoration day and enlightened the public on who it was that saved the republic, reading statistical statements which proved that school boys, the flower of the public schools and colleges in the United States were its majority defenders. The figures showed that the millions of soldiers were under 21, even as young as 10 years were scores of the buglers; every year on up to 21 had its scores, hundreds, thousands, millions. Mr. Stauber's sermon was under 17 when he enlisted, 19 years younger than his brother, Lieut. Col. Stauber, of the same regiment. The statistical information was a surprise to many of the G. A. R. members and women, and some school children here can't believe that "just kids" went to war; that they know 13-year-olds whose mothers look after their baths, even.

The fruit crop promises a good deal in diverse localities—"divers," because it is "hit and miss" fashion. The cherries make the poorest promise here, but apples and peaches are nearly too much for their trees, so heavily loaded are they.

The rains of late have been so abundant that it is a bad thing in many localities, much corn having been planted. At Randall, a five-inch rainfall at one time washed the lister ditches, covering the corn, and did other mischief. The enterprising corn and country men who are getting practice road dragging are getting plenty of it to do. They drag one day and it rains the next. The horse can smile at the auto, from the road drag and the carriage, too.

DECORATION DAY AT ATWOOD.

Business Houses Closed and Stars and Stripes Waved.

Atwood, Kan., June 2.—Decoration day was generally observed here. The Stars and Stripes waved from many buildings of the business district. The houses closed their doors from 10 o'clock to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The old veterans, together with the W. R. C. and the Veterans' club, decorated the graves of the old comrades who are buried there. The address of the day was delivered by D. G. Bye, of Atwood, one of the most learned scholars in this part of the state. Mr. Bye is a member of Atwood camp of Sons of Veterans. His address was thoroughly patriotic as it was scholarly, and his large audience of listeners were highly entertaining.

Only a dozen civil war comrades marched under the Stars and Stripes to the congregational church in this town to the entertaining and patriotic sermon delivered by the pastor, the Rev. C. J. Rives. There was a time here when the old veterans would have filled one-half of the church on Memorial Sabbath. Not so now, for many of them have answered the last roll call, and are now sleeping in the beautiful cemetery overlooking the town. Of the dozen old soldiers who attended this last memorial service, five states were represented, as follows: From Illinois came A. K. Burton; from Kansas, W. H. Boyer and J. H. Chambers; from Indiana, J. F. Bacon and W. J. Ratcliff; from Missouri, W. R. Shirley; from Ohio, J. W. Cochran; from Pennsylvania, J. D. Hacker; from Iowa, John Hays and S. H. Tindall; and from Pennsylvania, H. C. Root. The address for it was more on this order than a sermon, was one of the most eloquent and scholarly ever listened to in Atwood. The church was crowded, and it seemed as if the music and singing by the choir was as effective and beautiful as it could be. The W. R. C. turned out in goodly numbers, as did Atwood camp of Sons of Veterans recently organized.

HENRY NICKEL MISSING.

Wichita, Kan., June 2.—The friends of Henry J. Nickel, secretary of the Wichita Clearing House association, who disappeared Sunday leaving a shortage in his account of about ten thousand dollars, believe that the young man has taken his own life. No trace of him has been found.

Mrs. Nickel and her 2-year-old child have gone to the home of her parents in Hillsboro, Kan. She said she didn't know the whereabouts of her husband. It is believed that Nickel speculated in the markets and lost the money.

They were accused of entertaining Mrs. Brownie Shepherd, who had been suspended for an infraction of the rules of the university.

HUSBAND BIT HER.

One of Mrs. Hendricks' Reasons for Seeking a Divorce.

Something new in the "whys" for divorce is advanced by Mae Hendricks who alleges that her husband was extremely cruel in that he bit her on her lips cruelly and maliciously and so lacerated them that for a long time she suffered great pain and anguish. "I was at the Holton Signal and was with him in the city of Kansas City, Mo., where he bit me on the lips and so lacerated them that for a long time she suffered great pain and anguish. The chronological table of his exhibitions of strength and disapproval of his wife are as follows:

December 27, 1909, he struck her with his fist but without cause, cruelly and brutally, rendering her unconscious for a considerable length of time.

January 6, 1910, he struck her a vicious right hand blow so hard that she was sent reeling and fell on the bed nearby.

Then on May 29, of the present year, he struck her again, inflicting injuries, causing her great bodily and mental pain, and ordered her out of the house. May 31, 1910, she returned to her home at 321 North Monroe street only to find her father-in-law there. The old gentleman informed her she had no business around, so she returned again to the home of her sister at 513 Quincy street, where she has since lived.

All the dissatisfactions of the husband have arisen since March 22, 1909, when he took home his bride. Since this time, she alleges, she has been a most dutiful wife and has helped buy furniture which she charges he has now allowed to rot in the company. It was purchased from the abused wife asks the restoration of her maiden name, Mae Karr, besides divorce, alimony and costs.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

C. G. A. Leder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ill., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

At the Grand.

Topeka will see Mrs. Fiske and her famous Manhattan company of players in "Becky Sharp" at the Grand opera house Monday. It will be a pleasure for theatergoers of the present day to witness the success of ten years ago in the hands of the most distinguished actress of the day and the able group of players which surround her under the designation of the Manhattan company.

Mrs. Fiske as Becky Sharp, in Which She Will Be Seen at the Grand Monday.

The old actor will sit in his cozy corner and tell you that the stage art of today is decadent, but with all due respect to the sincerity of his reckoning, it is admitted among the impartial that the method of today shows vast improvement over the old. Hence, the appearance of the term "mummer." The leader of the new school of acting, with its keynote of naturalness has always been Minnie Maddern Fiske. In "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" and in "Becky Sharp" her use of this quality proved a genuine sensation. And all her career Mrs. Fiske has been its high priestess. The chart opens tomorrow at Rowley's.
